THE CAUCASUS NOW SCENE OF FIGHTING

ARMENIANS, TARTARS AND RUSSIANS ENGAGED

Mob Turned on Soldiers Who Attempted to Restore Order—Terrible Stories of Massacres.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—The news from the Caucasus is particularly bad to-day. Fighting between Armenians, Tartars and Russians assumed a ferocious character and every attempt of the troops to restore order resulted in the depredations turning upon the soldiers and fighting them with arms and bombs. Two companies of Cossacks are reported to have been entirely wiped out.

The entire trouble is of a revolutionary character, but it gives the people an opportunity to manifest their race hatreds, and the most horrible atrocities have been committed.

According to a merchant who has just arrived from Baku, the scenes there were beyond belief, and not only murder but torture in all forms were practiced. An Armenian girl's fingers were cut off one by one, and afterwards her arms and legs were cut off.

Trenches Filled With Bodies.

Odessa, Nov. 7.—The mobs completely devastated, plundered and burned all the Jewish houses in the suburb of Danik. In the large villages of Severinovka and Anatolievka and the towns of Ovidopol, Masaki, Akkera, Azaki, Ovidopol and Winizka many hundreds of persons are reported to have been killed and thousands wounded.

The details of last week's massacres are so revolting that only a few can be added to the horrors. It appears that the soldiers ruthlessly slaughtered the defenders of Jewish houses. In one case 46 railway workmen who defended Jews on Chokhlovskaya street were shot.

At the Jewish agricultural school the rioters first secured a large sum of money from the principal as a guarantee of his safety and afterwards returned and demanded more. Failing in obtaining any more money they slaughtered a number of the pupils. The rest escaped.

In another case under horrible torture rioters forced a rabbi to surrender the key of his safe containing $15,000 deposited in his keeping, and then killed the rabbi and his wife.

The scenes of grief were heart-rending as the bodies were placed in the trenches, each trench containing several. Similar funerals will continue for three days.

Four hundred and twelve Jews, victims of the massacres of last week, were buried to-day. A majority of the shops were closed, including many of those belonging to Christians.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Wm. T. Stead, fresh from Russia by way of Finland, stopped over in Berlin to-day on his way to Paris. For one hour and a half he poured out his vivid impressions of "Hell, pretty well, at Odessa," as he called it, of the horrors he had seen and heard of—"the ghastly whirl into which Russian society has drifted."

"Strange things are happening," said Mr. Stead. "Think of the incidents at Revel. The 'red virgin' of the French commune was Louise Michel, well known in a certain widow named Linde dressed in scarlet from top to toe, and with an axe over her shoulder placed herself at the head of the mob.

All night the revolutionists whetted themselves up.

In the morning the governor had got out troops and the mob gathered in the square facing the soldiers. The governor called on the mob to disperse and said that if after fifteen minutes they did not disperse he would order the troops to fire. Fifteen minutes went by and the widow Linde climbed a lamp post and cried out encouragement and exhorted steadfastness for the revolution. The soldiers began to call out to the people to go away, as if they were ordered to fire. They must do so, and did not want to kill anybody.

"Kill him, kill him!" screamed the widow Linde, pointing to the governor. "Several revolutionists were fired from the crowd, but no one was hit. The governor waited to the end of fifteen minutes, then gave the command to fire, and the widow Linde fell to the ground, shot through the body."

"One hundred and five dead persons were picked up from the square and thirty more died in the hospitals."

The oldest man in Russia is the Emperor. God grant that he may keep his throne, that the Liberals may rather about him and that they may resist the forces of dissolution. His authority is shaken, passions are loose and things are likely to be worse. There may be fearful slaughters. As an optimist I think

A Hundred Thousand Lives may fall. If I were pessimistic I would say two millions."

Mr. Stead added that the army could not be trusted. He said that the army officers at Helmsingford had sent word to the Liberals while holding a meeting that they need not be afraid as the troops would not fire.

"The Liberals," he continued, "are holding back support of the crown as a time when every man who has a good coat on his back or a rouble in his pocket should stand by the Emperor, who has placed himself on the Liberals side. The Liberals are unable to at once overcome their distrust."

"The fuller liberties have been granted too late. Autocracy lost the respect of the country during the war and during the delay in granting those liberties which the Emperor decided upon two months ago. The thing to save Russia is for the Liberals to organize special constabulary to maintain order and allow time to work out the new government machinery."

Count Witte's Complaints.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—Count Witte has definitely pledged himself to support the plan of co-operation of constituent assembly when the domain meets, if a single representative raises the question. He is exceedingly anxious to win the support of the Zemstvos party, which he does not hesitate to declare conforms to his political ideas, and which he evidently regards as the strongest, safest and most influential factor in the future political life of the country.

The Count has been in almost constant consultation with the leaders of this party, but they have steadily refused their allegiance except on the condition of the convocation of constituent assembly, based on universal suffrage. Count Witte has persistently opposed the demands, insisting that the matter was for the domain itself to decide.

At the same time he announced his personal belief that in the end such an assembly would be summoned. Finally, in the course of a long conversation with M. Ivan Petrunkevitch, a member of the Moscow assembly, and president of the Moscow agricultural assembly, the Count said: "I give you my word of honor that if, when the domain meets, one representative demands a constituent assembly, I will support him."

Count Witte continues to complain bitterly of the lack of confidence manifested toward him by all the elements of the opposition at a time when he stands so much in need of the Liberals. He said to M. Petrunkevitch: "I find myself confronted by a mighty ocean, and with only a cockle shell on the shore. I say this boat will carry me across, but to the other shore, and I enter it because there is no other craft in sight." The Count added that he believed of Christ Himself, were at the helm of the government, the opposition would not believe in Him, and said that at the present juncture the only person who was seconding his endeavors to introduce the new regime in completely loyal spirit was General

Two Men Wounded.

London, Nov. 7.—Policeman Harry Green and Walter Smith had an exciting experience with a supposed burglar in an open field yesterday. The burglar turned out to be Thomas E. Flaxen, of Heik street, London South, a very rough character about 22 years of age, with a prison record, only recently being up on a charge of drunkenness. Flaxen was fired a revolver at random when the police approached him. Flaxen fired liberally, the shot striking Green below the left ear. Green fell and Smith approached Flaxen, when the latter fired the bullet striking Smith on the right arm. Flaxen then ran to the rear of a house, where he threw in one of his volleys, but was overtaken by Smith, handcuffed and brought to the station. Flaxen claims that cigarette smoking was the cause of all his trouble. Green's injuries are serious, but will likely be fatal.

INSPECTED NAVAL ACADEMY.

Prince Louis of Battenberg Impressed With Institution at Annapolis.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 7.—Rear-Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, under the guidance of Rear-Admiral Sands, superintendent of the naval academy, made a thorough inspection of the academy this forenoon. He was accompanied by his personal staff.

"I want to see everything there is to be seen about the academy," said the prince, and his wish was carried out to the letter. He spent in several classrooms and heard part of the recitations. After the inspection he told Admiral Sands the American was rightly proud of such an institution, which he could see was the key to the thorough and broad equipment of the American naval officers.

This afternoon the prince leaves for the British ships, are scheduled to sail tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock for New York. Rear-Admiral Brewster's squadron got away early to-day for New York.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mah Run Down While Crossing Railway Track.

Great Neck, L. I., Nov. 7.—Louis Fitzgerald, son of Gen. Louis Fitzgerald, met with a shocking death by being struck by a train at the station here. Mr. Fitzgerald, who had been riding in the steeplechase races at W. Gould Brook's place in the afternoon, came down to the station on foot, as he did not wait for a conveyance and started across the track which was about to be pulled out for Long Island City. As he ran across the track he did not notice an eastbound train which was just coming up to the station. He stepped in front of the locomotive of this train and was ground to pieces before it could be stopped.

Mr. Fitzgerald was one of the most prominent riders in the steeplechase race at Brook's place in the afternoon and rode Tiger Lily, which stumbled and broke its leg. The horse had to be shot. The accident, in which Fitzgerald escaped injured, occurred within a short time of his being killed.

At a mass meeting of Jewish residents held in Temple Emmanuel, New York, Tuesday, $36,800 was collected for the relief of the sufferers of the massacres in Russia and a relief society was formally organized. McLELLAN AND

JEROME RE-ELECTED

The New York Contest.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Evening Journal prints a notice that bets on the majority should not be paid, declaring that the official count will show Hearst elected. Mr. Hearst in making his contest may demand that each of the 1,804 ballot boxes used in the elections be brought before the board of aldermen and a count of the ballots be made by that body. Then if dissatisfied, Mr. Hearst may throw the whole matter into the court for a decision, and if that is done the battle probably will be a long and intricate one.

Although McLehlan, on the face of complete but unofficial returns, was elected by a plurality of 3,485, the Democrats lost heavily in yesterday's contest. The election of Wm. T. Jerome, Independent, as district attorney, is a severe blow to the Tammany organization, which exerted all the force at its command to defeat him. His victory is remarkable when it is considered that he was the candidate of no party, and made his appeal for votes solely on his record in office for the last four years, and that every man who voted for him had to split his ticket. The board of aldermen, too, is lost to Tammany. They have but 25 members of the board against 38 Republicans and 9 Municipal Ownership members.

Rud S. Coler, Municipal Ownership, and Joseph Bernhart, Republican, and Municipal Ownership, elected respectively president of Brooklyn and Queens boroughs, have membership on the city's board of estimates and apportionment, which controls all expenditures of money. This is of great importance, giving the Municipal Ownership League a voice in the city's financial affairs, also in the granting of franchises.

In addition to losing the board of aldermen, Tammany lost 12 members of the State Assembly from New York today and the Assembly when it meets in Albany on January 1st next will be Republican by more than 3 to 1.

District Attorney Jerome announced today that he will do all he can to see that there is a fair count of the vote for mayor. He gave orders to his assistants that the returns from the 18th and 19th assembly districts be guarded carefully. Charles F. Murphy is leader of the 18th and Timothy D. Sullivan is leader of the 19th districts. Mr. Jerome said: "Take these returns from the 18th and 19th assembly districts, and lock them up. Guard them carefully. They may cut a big figure in this mayoralty contest, no matter whom it hurts."

In the commercial district practically all bets made on McLehlan will be held up pending developments. Conservative estimates make the amount wagered on McLehlan not less than $200,000, while probably half that much was bet on Jerome. A few Jerome bets were cashed this morning, but the stakeholders have decided not to pay the bulk of the Jerome money until the official count is made. McLehlan may be held up until the courts decide the contest.

Democratic Victory.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 8.—John M. Pattison, Democrat, will be the next governor of Ohio and his party associates on the state tickets have also all been elected according to the latest returns. The exact figures may not be known today, but there seems no reason to doubt the success of the entire Democratic slate ticket by at least a safe plurality. Both houses of the legislature will be Democratic, the last hope of the Republicans vanishing with the report that the Hamilton county delegation was solidly Democratic.

American Party War.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 8.—The American party, founded for the express purpose of overthrowing the influence of the Mormon church in municipal affairs, gained a complete victory in yesterday's city election.

PROPOSED DEMONSTRATION.

Paris, Nov. 8.—The negotiations between the powers for a naval demonstration against Turkey, while agreed upon in principle have not yet reached their final stage owing to Russia's internal condition, making it difficult for her to take the initiative with Austria.

(Associated Press.)

NELSON NEWS.

Bright Outlook For Zinc Mines of the Kootenay—Meeting of Lumbermen.

"The prospects of zinc mines in Kootenay are brightening every day," says the News. "With three plants in operation for its treatment and old and new zinc properties reviving or beginning active operations, the days when zinc is a cause of loss to the silver-lender miner seem to be rapidly passing. If not already gone, G. O. Buchanan, whose absorbing duties as Dominion land bounty commissioner cannot narrow his interests, or prevent him from maintaining a clear and wide outlook over the whole mining industry of Kootenay, has returned from Kaslo. Seen at the Strathcona, and greeted with the usual questions he said: 'The outlook seems to be constantly improving. I don't know exactly why it should be so. But more mines are opening. Those in operation seem to be expanding. And, perhaps more important, no difficulty is encountered in disposing of the product on satisfactory terms. C. de S. Batchelor, of Spokane, has been in Kaslo lately and has bought all the zinc ore he could. It is still stored on the wharf at Kaslo. Yes, the zinc separating plant at Kaslo is in operation. It is supplied with ore usually from the Ruth and Jackson mines, which are controlled by Mr. Alexander. I can't say definitely what the plans for the future are but meanwhile the work is being done at the mines and at the separating plant.' The story is being repeated from practically every part of the Kootenay, Shuswap and Sandon districts wherever zinc ore has been found. Mine owners to whom zinc has hitherto been always a serious detriment, are finding the value of their properties greatly enhanced by the presence of the white metal."

ALCOHOLISM DEFINED.

The Lancet Describes How It Is Contracted.

London, Nov. 8.—The startling statement that drunkenness is not alcoholism, and that it has little to do with the evils of intemperance is made by the Lancet. "Convivial drinking," the Lancet declares, "is the ordinary cause of drunkenness, and it is therefore necessary to recognize the distinction between this mode of drinking and drinking as an aid to muscular and nervous effort. This latter mode is the more common source of chronic alcoholism, and the form which mainly is of grave social significance. 'Convivial drinking,' on the other hand, though it causes drunkenness, tends usually to be intermittent, and it is therefore less likely to cause chronic alcoholism. 'The mechanic who gets drunk on pay day, but who, owing to the circumstances in which he works, cannot have access to liquor during the hours of labor, runs little risk of chronic intoxication; but the dock laborer who works through the day on repeated doses of 'four ale,' even though he were never to get drunk, would be likely to suffer from alcoholic poisoning and its attendant evils."

"In this country the maximum prevalence of drunkenness is met with in the great mining districts, Durham, Northumberland and South Wales. Yet in these districts there is no corresponding prevalence of alcoholic disease or the various forms of delinquency that are supposed to be connected with drunkenness."

"Drunkenness is far and away the most drunken district in England, but the death rate from chronic alcoholism and liver disease does not exceed that in the other agricultural counties. It is the same in South Wales."

"If we recognize that simple drunkenness plays but a small part in chronic alcoholism, that it is not a great factor as a cause of disease or crime or the other evils that give to intemperance the importance of a social problem, then," says the Lancet, "we shall not expect overmuch from the early closing of public houses and from other laudable reforms of this sort."

"We may also perhaps be led to doubt whether the policy of sending the convivial 'drunk' to prison and saddling the community with his maintenance is the last word of wisdom."

"Master mariners and officers of good seaworthy vessels can get life insurance in The Canada Life on the same terms as landlubber. Policies are absolutely free from restrictions as to residence, travel and occupation. The company is the oldest, largest and strongest in Canada; it will pay you to investigate. Helsterman & Co., general agents."

The prisoner is an outcast among his own people, who regard him as a thoroughly bad lot, and who are very indignant that the race should be so disgraced in Nelson, where such a case has never happened before.

CONSUL'S LIFE THREATENED.

United States Consul Receives an Anonymous Letter—Anti-American Feeling Growing.

(Associated Press.)

Hongkong, Nov. 8.—Advice from Canton says that the anti-American feeling there is growing more intense. A lady was spat upon in the streets and the American consul, Julius G. Lay, has received an anonymous letter threatening his life if the imprisoned boycotters of American goods are not released. The consul has written to the Viceroy asking him to prohibit an anti-American mass meeting which is proposed to be held in Canton, but the Viceroy apparently is indifferent.

The consul today proceeded to Tientsin to make an official investigation of the recent massacre of American missionaries there.
